SHERMAN ON "SOUND MONEY.

Ohio's Senator Opens the State Convention with a Financial Speech.

HE, TOO, SCORES SILVERITES.

Their Proposition Is a Degradation of Our Dollar to Fifty Cents.

POLICY OF 1853 IS THE BEST.

It is the Only Way to Preserve the Parity of Gold and Silver at a Fixed Ratio.

SANESVILLE, O., May 28.-The Republican State Convention opened this afternoon for the nomination of a full ticket and other business affecting the selection of the successor to Senator Brice and the choice of the party in this State for the Republican nomination for President.

The conferences of delegates yester day and last night showed that the senatorial and Presidential issues over-shadowed the contests for places on the the order was obtained by A. L. Lister or was evident that a factional contest would fight it out on Bushnell or Nash for Governor.

All other candidates ,including Hoyt, porary Chairman, who spoke as follows: have met to designate the next Gov-ernor of the State of Ohio. You have still a higher duty, to announce the principles and policy of the Republican party. What you will say here will

We are opposed to the Democratic por y of protecting woollen manufacwhich annually increases the public debt more than $50,000,000. The Tariff law of the last Congress is partly a copy and generally a failure.

"We demand a reform in the tariff, not to promote sectional interests, but to secure ample revenue and impartial protection to domestic industries. We want a change.

want a change.

"Sound Currency."

"We are in favor of a sound National currency, always redeemable in coin. All forms of money should be of equal purchasing power. For fourteen years after the resumption of specie payments while the Hepublican party was in power, we had such a currency. We had gold, sliver and paper money, all bearing the stamp and sanction of the United States, of unquestioned credit and of equal value, passing current not only within the United States, but in all parts of the commercial world.

"Both gold and silver are indispensable for use in the varied wants of mankind. Gold is now, and has been for ages, the chief measure of value in international commerce and the larger transactions of domestic exchanges. Silver, from its bulk and weight, is not available for large payments either at home or abroad, but it is indispensable in the minor wants of mankind.

"Gold, free from its greatly superior value, cannot be utilized for such purposes. Therefore it is that both metals have been coined into money at a fixed ratio. The enormous increase of the production of silver in the United States, Mexico and Australasia has disturbed this ratio and has lowered the market value of silver precisely as a like increase of production has lowered the price of other commodities.

"It is a universal law that price or value is measured by quantity. Under these conditions the rational and proper course would be a change of ratio, but this can only be effective as to those two metals by a concert of action among commercial nations. Until this can be accomplished, the only logical way is for each nation to coin both metals and maintain the coinage of the cheaper metal at par by limitation of amount, and redemption when in excess of the demand for it.

"Such is now the policy of the United States and of every great commercial nation, including every country in Europe. Other nations adopt the silver standard alone, not from choice, but from poverty.

"I believe that the policy of the United States, adopted in 1853

Policy of 1853 the Only Way.

"I believe that the policy of the United States, adopted in 1853, of coining fractional sliver coins in limited Quantities, from silver bullion purchased at market price, and making them legal tender for small sums is the only way to preserve the parity of gold and silver coins at a fixed ratio.

"This is properly called bimetallic money I hope and believe that the common interests of commercial nations will lead them through an international commission, to either adopt a new ratio based on market value of the metals, or to coin them and maintain them as we do, at their present ratio.

"The policy now urged by the producers of silver and by men who wish to pay their debts in cheaper money than they promised to pay, is the free coinage of silver. This means the single standard of silver and the demonstration of gold. This is the only monometallic system. It is the degradation of our deliar to fifty cents. If apoliced to our National bonds it is a repudiation of one-half of the public debt. It is the repudiation of one-half of the public debt. It is the repudiation of one-half of all debts. It confers no favors on producers of any kind, whether of the farm, the workshop, or the mine, for if they get nominally more deliars for their productions, their additional deliars would have only one-half the purchasing power of the gold deliars. "The great hardship of this policy would fall upon workingmen, skilled or unskilled, whose daily wage measured by the present standard is higher than in any country of the world. Their wages will purchase more of the necessaries of life than the wages paid for similar labor anywhere cutside of the United States. It is a false pretense that the chaspening of money will be beneficial to them.

"The Republican party in its National platform of 182 demanded good money of equal purchasing power which is coined of silver or gold or composed of United States, maintained at par with coln. This is the himetallic policy. There we stand to-day. I hope and trust there we will stand forever.

"We will seek the co-operation of all nations and of all parties in maintaining the parity of gold and silver coins. If they will not co-operate with us in this policy the Republican party can and, I hope, will do it alone. Good money and plenty of it is as important to all our people as equality of rights and privileges.

"Let us now follow in the same pathway and we will not only elect a Republican Governor and State officers, but also another Republican Senator and, I hope, a President of the United States from the State of Ohio."

hected with the transportation. Insiell, however, was afterwards amicably settled.

Harris said Easton's account had been in many respects far more profitable to the Company than any office on their books. When the auditors had asked Harris why Easton stood so heavily in the Company's books, the bookkeeper said Easton often bought horses when he had not the money to pay for them. He claimed to buy them only to keep up prices, and to give Tattersails a good name among horse-buyers. Easton owned 520 shares of stock in Tattersails.

A paper was then produced and piaced on evidence, in which the Company acknowledged in October, 1883, the receipt of a note for $15,000 from Easton as full payment for all Easton's indebtedness to the firm.

The hearing adjourned until to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

A boy found the animal, when Fatrick Leedy, of 349 West Nineteenth street, claimed him and took him. He was arrested on complaint of Mrs. Crut because he would not give him up.

Mr. Leedy explained to Justice Simms that he would rather give up the dog and be tilscharged than to have any more trouble. The Justice followed that course. $35 was the first large amount received. Then came Mr. W. H. Gammon's $10.
